VISITOR'S GUIDE

Welcome to Bay Head

The Bay Head Business Association has put together this visitor's guide to help you in discovering or revisiting our beautiful town and friendly inhabitants. We invite you to share our places of worship, our magnificent unspoiled beaches, our lovely Centennial Park and our numerous year-round social events. Stroll our picturesque streets, with their well-kept homes and gardens. Visit Twilight Lake, a waterfowl sanctuary, or windsurf in our balmy breezes. Enjoy the warmth and hospitality of our superior hotels and fine bed & breakfast inns. Treat yourself at our distinguished outdoor cafés and fine restaurants. Discover our community, with our many art galleries, distinctive boutiques, antiques, food and other specialty shops.

Enjoy these many attractions, and share with us
our pride as we “Bay Headers” welcome you to wondrous BAY HEAD!

A bit of History... aptly dubbed the “crown jewel” of the strand of beaches that constitutes Barnegat Bay Island: a dazzling rustic haven by the sea; a town of mystique and wonderment and timeless beauty, a friendly and elegant but down-home atmosphere for its 1,300 permanent residents and scores of visitors alike.

The earliest inhabitants of the area were the Lenni-Lenape who resided inland during the stormy, wintery months. New Englanders, in the 1600's, were the first non-native settlers - farmers, fishermen and seamen. But contemporary history dates to 1876 when David Mount, a Princeton banker, purchased beach acreage from a salty, peg-legged retired sea captain, John E. Johnson. A few years later, Mount's fellow bankers, Edward Howe and William Harris, formed the Bay Head Land Company and tastefully began to develop the farms, woods, cranberry bogs and bayberry dunes into what is now the borough of Bay Head, whose centennial was celebrated in 1986. Many of the town's streets were named after the Princetonians, Philadelphians and New Yorkers who were its founders, and many of its current residents are their direct descendants.

The summer exodus of visitors from the north and west was facilitated by the Jersey Central's extension of the New York & Long Branch line to Point Pleasant, in 1882. There it met the Pennsylvanians' Philadelphia & Long Branch line connecting it with Camden to the south. Intown train service came with the addition of the Bay Head Junction loop in 1918. With these transport conveniences, and the advent of motor cars, the town began to grow. The several fine guest houses, as well as places of worship, were built to accommodate the ever increasing numbers of sun worshipers, bathers and boaters in their quest for social enjoyment at New Jersey's newest and most exclusive summer resort. Bay Head became internationally famous for its high-quality boat building, and remained so well into the present century.
